The Harvest

Matthew 9:37-38; John 4:35-38

"Jesus said: 'The harvest is plentiful but the workers are few.' Jesus uses this image of a harvest to explain the readiness of many people to hear and accept the Gospel. Just as ripe crops must be gathered in before they spoil, there are many people whose hearts are prepared to receive the message of salvation. However, Jesus points out a challenge—the workers are few. There aren't enough people actively sharing the Gospel and making disciples. Jesus wants His followers to see the urgency of the task and the importance of each believer's role in spreading His teachings. He calls us to step up and become workers in His spiritual harvest."

"The teaching about the Harvest gives us important lessons:"

1. The Urgency of Evangelism: John 4:35 says, "Don't you have a saying, 'It's still four months until harvest'? I tell you, open your eyes and look at the fields! They are ripe for harvest." Just as ripe fields need to be harvested quickly, people who are ready to hear the Gospel need to be reached without delay. The story of Philip and the Ethiopian eunuch (Acts 8:26-40) shows how important it is to share the Gospel right away. With open hearts, let us recognize the urgency of evangelism. Jesus said, "The harvest is plentiful." Let's ask for God's help to be bold and active in sharing His message.

2. The Need for More Workers: Matthew 9:38 says, "Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field." Jesus encourages us to pray for more people to join in the work of spreading the Gospel. The story of Jesus sending out the seventy-two (Luke 10:1-2) shows that there is a need for more workers in the harvest. With humble hearts, let us pray for more workers and be willing to be sent ourselves. Jesus said, "The workers are few." Let's strive to be part of the solution by actively participating in evangelism and discipleship, bringing glory to His name.
