Parable of the Pharisee and the Tax Collector

Luke 18:10-14

"Jesus told this parable: 'Two men went up to the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. The Pharisee stood by himself and prayed: "God, I thank you that I am not like other people—robbers, evildoers, adulterers—or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week and give a tenth of all I get." But the tax collector stood at a distance. He would not even look up to heaven, but beat his breast and said, "God, have mercy on me, a sinner." I tell you that this man, rather than the other, went home justified before God. For all those who exalt themselves will be humbled, and those who humble themselves will be exalted.

The Parable of the Pharisee and the Tax Collector teaches us several important lessons:

1. Humility Before God: James 4:10 - "Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will lift you up." The tax collector's humble plea for mercy shows us the importance of approaching God with humility, acknowledging our sins and our need for His grace. The story of King David in Psalm 51, where he humbly confesses his sins and seeks God's mercy, is a powerful example of humility before God.

2. Condemnation of Self-Righteousness: Romans 3:23 - "For all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God." The Pharisee's self-righteous attitude is condemned because it lacks true repentance and fails to recognize that everyone is in need of God's forgiveness. The example of the rich young ruler in Mark 10:17-22, who believed his own righteousness was sufficient, highlights the danger of self-righteousness and the need for genuine humility before God.

"As we reflect on the Parable of the Pharisee and the Tax Collector, let us remember to approach God with humility, avoid self-righteousness, and rely on His mercy for justification."
